A pixel art space shooter game scene. The background is a dark blue space filled with small white stars. In the center, the text "Sei Pronto?" is displayed in a large, white, pixelated font with a blue outline. To the left, a small white spaceship with a blue and yellow engine is moving towards the right. In the top left corner, there is a row of eight red hearts, each with a white outline. In the bottom left corner, there are three small white circles, each with a black outline. Several large, pixelated, white and red alien-like creatures are scattered across the screen, some appearing to be in motion or falling. The overall style is reminiscent of classic 8-bit video games.
